We were doing about average (compared with previous years) until after breakfast was served on Sunday morning. (What did the breakfast chefs put in the pancakes?) We had our best Sunday morning rate ever.

See the above graph, which shows the hour-by-hour contact total for this year, compared against last year and our previous top two years. We just squeaked past our 2012 total in the final few minutes, which resulted in our second-best-ever contact total.

There were a lot more sunspots in 2011 (our best year) and 2012, so this year's results are pretty amazing!

This was our second-best contact total ever! We made 2,548 QSOs, of which 1,160 were on CW and 1,388 were on phone. Congratulations everyone!
